Dress-up Pet Parade

Bring your costumed pets to the Gazebo at 2 PM Sunday, October 13, for snacks, stories, and a chance to strut their stuff . . .

And if the weather cooperates, (and nobody's pet escapes), there may even be a parade!

Obviously, your pet needs to be under your physical control at all times during this event – and obviously, this is not a good place to bring pets that don't deal well with large crowds of strangers.

But if you have a dog, cat, rabbit, or iguana that likes to dress up, we'll see you there! For more information, send an email to: info@villagesofgarrisoncreek.com

Openings on ARC

This is your chance to help keep things looking nice!

Our local Architectural Review Committee (ARC) has immediate openings for two volunteers.

This means we need two people who'd help make sure that all our houses and front yards follow the same guidelines – guidelines established by our homeowners' association.

Sometimes this means giving advice.

And sometimes this means dealing with complaints.

“We need people who are reliable, organized, and personable,” says Mike Serra, the chair of ARC.
